

Foreign Red-Republicans.

The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian, a Democratic journal, has opened its eyes to the fact that there is in New York a class of a very unwise description—restless agitators and demagogues—who if they only had the way, as they have the will, would not only be likely to involve us in trouble soon with England, but to keep us constantly in a state of alarm at home. However, the Editor speaks for himself—

"A grand ory is to be celebrated in New York, by that host of Foreign fanatics and anarchists who infest our sister city. These friends of society, not satisfied with the privilege they enjoy here of proclaiming their views in the most unbecoming manner, have determined to assemble themselves in a hall of religion, law and order, in order to give us an exhibition which will outrage every sentiment of decency and public decorum. They are making preparations for the mock obsequies of the assassins Orestes and Pueri, which solemnity is to come off on the 15th of this month. A torchlight procession is to parade through the streets, and a requiem is to be chanted, and the prominent features of the wicked and disgusting demonstration.

Are these antagonists of society, the friends of all she holds sacred, religion, morality, and property, to celebrate in the open thoroughfares, and public squares of New York, their worse than heathenish worship? Shall they be allowed to exhibit before the eyes of our youths, the indecent and awfully revolting propensities of their low and depraved souls? Are there no laws to prevent such prostitution of humanity in public? We think there are, and trust to the honor of New York that they will be enforced."

Case of Alleged Brutality.

Charles Grant, first mate, Charles Reed, a boy, and George Purington, seamen on board the ship Terese, on her late voyage from the Chinese Islands, to Baltimore, Md., were, last Saturday, committed for trial on a charge of aiding in the murder of a seaman, named John Wilson, on the high seas. The Captain, by whose orders it is alleged, the four fellow were beaten to death, left the ship at New York, and the two seamen who were implicated are still at large. The deceased (says the Sun) was stripped naked and tied up by the hands to the main rigging, and was then whipped successively by each of the four with double round rattling staves. The Captain stood by, and made Wilson turn his body around so that he could be whipped on every part of his person, and there was no part of his body that was not marked with the blows. After they had done whipping him, they threw salt water over him. He was then let down into the water, and in a few minutes he was found floating on his back, with his hands and feet bound. Purington and another man, named John Wilson, were then sent down to the deck, and Purington told Wilson that the Captain wanted him to come out on deck. Wilson replied: "For God's sake, let me lie here and die." They then carried him out on deck, and he died by the time they got him there.

Union Prayer Meetings.

The first Union Prayer meeting in this place, says the Lexington Gazette, was held in the Old Fellows' Hall, last Thursday evening. The meeting was conducted by Col. F. H. Smith, of the Episcopal church; addresses were delivered by Major Preston and Dr. Payne of the Presbyterian Church, and prayers were offered by Messrs. Samuel Vanderveer, of the Methodist Church, and Compton of the Presbyterian Church, and George W. Adams, of the Baptist Church, singing was conducted by Mr. James Seneset, of the Methodist Church. The meeting was presided by a grave solemnity, and a spirit of deep earnestness was manifested in the prayers and exhortations.

STRANGE AFFAIR.—The body of a youth was found yesterday lying in the gutter at the northern extremity of 6th street, and near the end of the Culvert from which it had evidently been washed by the late rain. The skull was perfectly bare and the flesh almost entirely washed from the bones. Near to it was a bunch of keys. The body was dressed in coarse cassimere pants, dark coat and breeches. No information could be gleaned regarding the deceased. The place where the deceased was found, together with the fact that three holes were in the shirt, and corresponding ones in the shirt, lead strongly to the suspicion that the person was killed by stabbing, and then hid away.

—Richmond South.

RARA AVIS.—We were presented yesterday with a full grown, bona fide Sora, which we are confident is the first of the season. It was killed by a gentleman from our city who bagged it while in pursuit of snipe. The singular habits of this bird has rendered it an object of much speculation, and it still remains a question whether they migrate. The fact that this species are different different localities and their occasional unusable appearance, appears to give validity to the hypothesis that they are not migratory in their habits.—South Side Dem.

The stockholders of the Farmers' Bank of North Carolina held their annual meeting at Elizabeth City, on Monday the 5th, when a statement of the condition of the bank was exhibited, showing it to be $91,000 surplus above its liabilities. A speedy redemption of specie payments was recommended.

The jury in the case of Somerville, charged with being the accomplice of Pullen in the Richmond Custom House robbery, were unable to agree on a verdict on Tuesday, and were remanded until Wednesday morning.

The Turkish Vessels.—We learn that the Chief of the Bureau of Construction, the Engineer in Chief and Commander Dahlgren, have been selected by the Secretary of the Navy to confer with the Turkish Admiral as to the preliminaries for the three decker to be built by the Ottoman Porte in the United States. Two meetings have been had, and the result will be reported to the Secretary in a day or two.—Washington Star.

Congress.

In the Senate, yesterday, a memorial embracing resolutions from the authorities and citizens of the Great Lake City, Utah, was presented by the chair, and debated on its statements by Messrs. Polk, Douglas, Seward, Crittenden and Bigler, and laid on the table.

Mr. Gwin presented the instructions of the Legislature of California in favor of the Locomotion Kansas bill.

Mr. Broderick said that he should not heed the instructions, and alleged that they are not consonant with the views of four-fifths of that State.

The instructions were then laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

The Pacific Railroad bill was taken up and considered.

In the House of Representatives, in Committee of the whole, the consideration of the bill for the establishment of an Auxiliary Guard for the protection of life and public and private property in the city of Washington was taken up and further discussed.

At 1 o'clock on motion of Mr. Stephens of Ga., the message from the Senate asking for a committee of conference on the Kansas bill was taken up. Mr. Montgomery moved that the House insist on its amendment, on which motion he demanded the previous question. Not seconded—ayes 108, noes 108.

Mr. English moved that the proposed conference be granted. On this motion he demanded the previous question.

Mr. Garnett asked him to withdraw that call to enable him to explain the vote he should give on his (Mr. G's) motion.

Mr. Stanton objected.

Mr. Washburn, of Me., rising to a point of order, contended that the motion of Mr. English was not in order, the House having previously voted to adhere.

The Chair overruled this point of order; and the previous question being sustained, the motion to appoint a committee of conference was carried—ayes 109—noes 108—(the Chair voting in the affirmative).

A sprinkling of Diamonds.

The Paris correspondent of the Boston Traveller describes an accident which occurred at Mme. Lebon's ball, who lives on the left bank of the Seine, near the Pont de la Concorde. Young Prince Metternich, who was present at the ball, when, just before they reached the door, some obstacle in the avenue made the carriage jostle so violently as to throw the driver from his seat, the horses ran away and broke the carriage on the basin of the fountain. The Princess was carried, bleeding and senseless, into Mme. Lebon's; the dances were, of course, instantly interrupted, and several ladies fainted at the sight of the Princess in a ball dress and covered with blood. The wounds she received proved, unfortunately, slight. When her alarm was dissipated, it was discovered that her neck, hands and other ornaments of diamonds had fallen into the avenue. Imagine the consternation, which followed this discovery, especially when search was made in vain for them, and it became necessary to postpone further investigation until the daylight appeared.

Ten thousand dollars of diamonds in the Avenue des Champs Elysees all night! Police men were posted to guard the ground until day broke, when the diamonds were found scattered in every direction; not a diamond was missing!

A Delicate Question.

A legal question of a delicate nature is now exciting extraordinary interest in West-phalia—viz., whether a husband has a right to open his wife's letters. The question arose out of a suit for divorce instituted by the husband, in which he obtained a decree; but the conclusive piece of evidence was a letter from the L. thario, addressed to the wife, and the husband, who would never have been known had not the husband been so ungallant as to break the seal. The divorced wife at once prosecuted him for opening the letter, and the tribunal of Unne has decided that he was wrong, and has sentenced him to a fine of ten thalers. An appeal is pending, the result of which is anxiously watched by the public.

HARBOR MASTER.—Captain Ebenezer Bacon has been elected, by the City Council, a Harbor Master for this port.

The Fredericksburg News, speaking of the Delegate in the Legislature from this county, says:—"No man more richly deserves the gratitude of his constituents, for no member of the Legislature devoted his time and energies more constantly and heartily to the immediate interests of those whom he represented, or took a more enlarged view of his duty to the whole Commonwealth."

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—Last night, John Lynch, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, was arrested for an outrageous assault on a lady, near the northern boundary of the city. He was taken to the guard-house by the husband of the lady and officer King. During the night, the guard on duty heard a noise, as of some one strangling, and going to the cell, he found Lynch had taken a piece of rope into the cell, and with it had hung himself to a hinge of the small trap of the cell door. The guard cut him down, but Lynch afterwards became so furious that it was found necessary to secure his hands and feet, in order to prevent his doing injury to himself. He had been drinking. He was sent to the work-house for 90 days.—Wash. Star.

NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE CO.—The following letter from F. F. Ferguson, esq., president of the New York Life Insurance Company, is the Agent in this city, is well worth a careful perusal, showing, as it does, the estimation in which the company is held by prominent citizens of our own State.

NORFOLK, Jan. 25, 1858.—Gentlemen:—Yours of the 20th came duly to hand and in reply would say that I become the Agent of the New York Life Insurance Company in 1845, and have been up to the present time.

When I first became the Agent of the Company here, many of our citizens insured with me on account of their confidence in me alone, but there was another Company who had an Agent here and seeing our unparalleled success, he used the argument that no person here knew any thing as to the solvency of the office and the character of its officers.

The officers at that time being strangers to me I could say little in opposition to his statement, to meet his objection, however, I wrote to some of my friends in New York that I might be able to speak with certainty as to the reliability of the Company.

Among other City, now President of the Bank of the Republic of New York (and I am only sorry that I have not preserved that letter to send you) but he gave the fullest testimony as to the standing of the Company and also of the gentlemen at its head.

In addition to this during the whole of the ten years which I have been the Agent here the office having paid through me to the insured over $500,000, we have never yet failed to pay promptly on the day it was due the amount insured, and there has not been the least difficulty in any way with the office as regards the proofs of death (which during the Epidemic of 1855) were in many cases very imperfect, but a spirit of fair dealing is apparent in all the transactions of the Company.

I would here desire to say that during our time of great distress (in 1855) this Company remitted to the Howard Association of this City, money for relief.

In addition to what I have already said I speak of my own knowledge when I say that I know Messrs. Franklin and Freeman on their own account, who will settle the business of the old firm. G. M. BASTABLE, Baltimore, ap 15—d1m
